Scott, 2019-03-06 The Cape Peninsula University of Technology CPUT is one of four Universities of Technology established by the South African government in 2005 with a focus on vocational training This book presents faculty experiences of CPUT's innovative work integrated learning and teaching model as well as findings from practice based research being done in the institution The purpose of this volume is to be a resource for other institutions in South Africa that wish to try similar strategies as well as a to trigger a community of practice with vocationally oriented institutions outside of South Africa

Where Am I in the Picture? Claudia Mitchell, Katarina Giritli-Nygren, Relebohile Molestane, 2023-12-18 Positionality and researcher reflexivity how to account for one's subject position remain as challenges for new researchers But they also remain as challenges for experienced researchers who are often involved in multiple research projects simultaneously Where Am I in the Picture sheds light on the idea of researcher positionality through visual methodologies particularly in the context of studying rurality in Canada Sweden and South Africa The book is intended for new and experienced researchers seeking to decolonize their own perspectives in research in the social sciences and humanities It incorporates photographs drawings and memory work to highlight the social constructedness of what counts as rural Drawing together compelling narratives from researchers about their positionality in studying rurality the book highlights a need for greater attention to where we are in the picture more broadly It suggests that when it comes to the rural researchers need to rethink the interplay of dominant images insider and outsider perspectives and what this interplay means in relation to interpretation Where Am I in the Picture presents a new vision of how to take into consideration positionality in research

Youth In South Africa Ariane De Lannoy, Malose Langa, Heidi Brooks, 2021-05-05 South Africa is characterised by a youthful population and the challenges and possibilities that characterise the young generation are both warning signs and beacons of hope for a nation founded on social justice Youth in South Africa Agency in visibility and national development takes stock of the nation s development as it affects young people Authors offer both personal and professional insights into the ways in which the youth navigate their own pathways to adulthood These include formal and informal engagements with politics as well as protest un employment entrepreneurship education religion experiences with sexuality and violence and a multitude of other life experiences Contributors paint a picture of the initiative agency and resilience of the youth as well as the challenges before them Authors also identify the state of waithood faced by those unable to make the transition out of youth into full adulthood as a result of their socio economic circumstances and political context By engaging these experiences and insights and primarily informed by the inputs of young people the authors highlight the limitations of existing youth policies and frameworks The case is made for policy instruments to be informed by the lived experiences of the youth as they navigate a complex macrosocial environment and by the messages the youth communicate about the limitations of current approaches

Postgraduate Study in South Africa Liezel Frick, Puleng Motshoane, Christopher McMaster, 2016-11-21 The book explores concerns about the lack of higher education transformation around issues of equity curriculum reform language and race and how students navigate higher education complexities Students self reflective abilities creativity and pragmatic approaches to surviving and succeeding are indicators that postgraduate student success is as much internally as externally determined Each chapter speaks from a uniquely South African perspective The editors have tried to remain true to the voice of each contributor while simultaneously providing a coherent body of scholarly work

Blended learning environments to foster self-directed learning Christo van der Westhuizen, Mncedisi C. Maphalala, Roxanne Bailey, 2023-03-31 This book on blended learning environments to foster self directed learning highlights the focus on research conducted in several teaching and learning contexts where blended learning had been implemented and focused on the fostering of self directed learning Several authors have contributed to the book and each chapter provides a unique perspective on blended learning and self directed learning research From each chapter it becomes evident that coherence on the topics mentioned is established One of the main aspects drawn in this book and addressed by several authors in the book is the use of the Community of Inquiry Col framework when implementing teaching and learning strategies in blended learning environments to foster self directed learning This notion of focusing on the Col framework is particularly evident in both theoretical and empirical dissemination presented in this book What makes this book unique is the fact that researchers and peers in varied fields would benefit from the findings presented by each chapter albeit theoretical methodological or empirical in nature this in turn provides opportunities for future research endeavours to further the narrative of how blended learning environments can be used to foster self directed learning

BRICS: building education for the future; priorities for national development and international cooperation Leclercq, François, 2014-09-22

States and the Making of Others Jeanne Bouyat,

South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull,Jonathan D. Jansen,2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa s leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90 10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people s future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI

Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 Maringe, Felix,Prew, Martin,2015-05-05 Twenty Years of Education Transformation in Gauteng 1994 to 2014 An Independent Review presents a collection of 15 important essays on different aspects of education in Gauteng since the advent of democracy in 1994 These essays talk to what a provincial education department does and how and why it does these things whether it be about policy resourcing or implementing projects Each essay is written by one or more specialist in the relevant focus area The book is written to be accessible to the general reader as well as being informative and an essential resource for the specialist reader It sheds light on aspects of how a provincial department operates and why and with what consequences certain decisions have been made in education over the last 20 turbulent years both nationally and provincially There has been no attempt to fit the book s chapters into a particular ideological or educational paradigm and as a result the reader will find differing views on various aspects of the Gauteng Department of Education s present and past We leave the reader to decide to what extent the GDE has fulfilled its educational mandate over the last 20 years

Whither Opportunity? Greg J. Duncan, Richard J. Murnane, 2011-09-01 As the incomes of affluent and poor families have diverged over the past three decades so too has the educational performance of their children But how exactly do the forces of rising inequality affect the educational attainment and life chances of low income children In Whither Opportunity a distinguished team of economists sociologists and experts in social and education policy examines the corrosive effects of unequal family resources disadvantaged neighborhoods insecure labor markets and worsening school conditions on K 12 education This groundbreaking book illuminates the ways rising inequality is undermining one of the most important goals of public education the ability of schools to provide children with an equal chance at academic and economic success The most ambitious study of educational inequality to date Whither Opportunity analyzes how social and economic conditions surrounding schools affect school performance and children s educational achievement The book shows that from earliest childhood parental investments in children s learning affect reading math and other attainments later in life Contributor Meredith Phillip finds that between birth and age six wealthier children will have spent as many as 1 300 more hours than poor children on child enrichment activities such as music lessons travel and summer camp Greg Duncan George Farkas and Katherine Magnuson demonstrate that a child from a poor family is two to four times as likely as a child from an affluent family to have classmates with low skills and behavior problems attributes which have a negative effect on the learning of their fellow students As a result of such disparities contributor Sean Reardon finds that the gap between rich and poor children s math and reading achievement scores is now much larger than it was fifty years ago And such income based gaps persist across the school years as Martha Bailey and Sue Dynarski document in their chapter on the growing income based gap in college completion Whither Opportunity also reveals the profound impact of environmental factors on children s educational progress and schools functioning Elizabeth Ananat Anna Gassman Pines and Christina Gibson Davis show that local job losses such as those caused by plant closings can lower the test scores of students with low socioeconomic status even students whose parents have not lost their jobs They find that community wide stress is most likely the culprit Analyzing the math achievement of elementary school children Stephen Raudenbush Marshall Jean and Emily Art find that students learn less if they attend schools with high student turnover during the school year a common occurrence in poor schools And David Kirk and Robert Sampson show that teacher commitment parental involvement and student achievement in schools in high crime neighborhoods all tend to be low For generations of Americans public education provided the springboard to upward mobility This pioneering volume casts a stark light on the ways rising inequality may now be compromising schools functioning and with it the promise of equal opportunity in America
