Monkey Madness Brings Homework Heartache By R. Porter

The Barnley Broadcast raced to get in touch with Lesley Brand, 11, of Beech Street, Barnley, who had a real tale to tell! Sitting beside her shocked-looking mother (in a room that appeared to have been hit by a hurricane) the young lady told us everything and we can exclusively report it right here!

As excuses go, this was one for the record books. When Stuart Rock - local primary school teacher - asked Lesley Brand why she had not done her homework, the reply was rather unusual.

"I always set homework over the weekend to give the pupils plenty of time to get it done," explained Mr Rock, 39. "But I was flabbergasted when this excuse came back from Lesley - one of my more imaginative students!"

Young Lesley was keen to share the details: It was just after teatime, she says; as usual, Mrs Brand was in the lounge, catching up on the soaps. Meanwhile her daughter, Lesley, was ensconced at the dining room table with a cuppa and a biscuit - fully intending to complete her homework, she assures us. Apparently, the peace was disturbed suddenly by a droning sound from the back yard. According to Lesley, what followed was utter chaos... She told us how a huge thud rang out over the neighbourhood and the patio doors were forced open by a pack of hairy invaders. "I thought it was a gang of burglars, because burglars are always hairy!" Lesley said, almost in tears, as she recalled the peculiar events of that Thursday evening.

Just monkeying around and no homework done!

"The mess was horrific!" added her mother, weeping at the thought of that traumatic evening. "My dining room is still devastated - and so am I!"

Sitting beside her traumatised mother, Lesley went on to describe how "about twenty monkeys" stormed the room, grabbing, ripping and smashing everything in sight. She told us how they were hanging from the ceiling, tipping over furniture and - most horrifying of all - these cheeky monkeys viciously tore up Lesley's homework and tossed it into the mess. "I didn't even have a chance to get it started!" she insisted with a twinkle in her eye.

"Mum coming into the room must've scared the monkeys off!" Lesley claimed, with a dry sob. "Mum didn't see the monkeys. They just took off in their aeroplane and left me with all the mess - and no homework." All her mother could do was frown, roll her eyes and nod despairingly.

Lesley will still have to do her homework detention, Mr Rock says, despite all the monkey business!
